Dear Church Family,

As we step into November, the changing season naturally turns our hearts to reflection. The autumn air grows crisper, the days grow shorter, and we find ourselves at a unique threshold. We are standing right between the busy harvests of early fall and the joyful anticipation of Advent.

It's time to pause, breathe, and intentionally practice what the Apostle Paul encouraged in 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18: Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all things; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus. Notice that Paul didn't say to give thanks for all circumstances, but IN them. Life throws plenty of challenges our way--whether it is personal loss, financial strain, or quiet anxieties of an uncertain world. Yet, our gratitude doesn't depend on how smooth our circumstances are. It depends on how steady our God is.

My hope for our church family this month is that we don't just "do" Thanksgiving as a single day on the calendar. Instead, let's treat November as a training ground for a lifestyle of gratitude!

Yours in Christ,

Rev. Leonard M. Parker, Jr.
Senior Pastor and Teacher
